BigPack Atmosphere

Store your product in a modified atmosphere rich in CO₂/N₂

Ideal service to store food products

With this type of packaging, we contribute to the extension of the product's shelf life, controlling the development of microorganisms and aerobic insects.

It does not use pesticides or polluting agents, eliminates insect pests from products, preserves food quality and increases the shelf life of the product, avoiding economic losses.

An ideal system for food products, raw materials and manufactured products.

Service available with direct treatment in Big Bag or with protective cover.

- Avoid damage to merchandise
- Increase product life
- Different sectors of application
